Team Leaders: Folke Koebbeling & Alexa Kreissl

Group L - Useless 3 Pitch

In our team we look for discarded materials, resources that we encounter every day and consider as waste and useless. In the first session we will map these "useless" materials. You will walk thru your neighborhood, to constructions sides and you will survey your cellar to map the uselessness. By introducing you to the method of artistic mapping you will learn ways to visualize and to track these rejected objects. We are going into hands on work by digging for soil in various locations, looking for old mattresses and collecting f.e. tetra bricks and other „useless“ materials. We will use techniques of the earth pioneer W. Minke to verify the quality of clay in our soil and we will use the technique of ring weaving to transform the „useless“ into something "usefull".
